Teachers College’s guiding proposition has been that education alone can’t correct our society’s inequalities—that to maximize the life chances of all people, we need not only teachers, but also psychologists, nurse educators, nutrition educators, conflict resolution specialists, organizational psychologists, speech-language pathologists, nutritionists, health educators, artists and art educators, policy analysts and so many more.

Many of these fields were born at Teachers College—and we have long recognized that practitioners in all of them must work together across disciplinary lines. But as the nation and the world begin to rebuild in the face of historically unprecedented challenges, such collaboration must become the ethos of our era—and Teachers College can and must help show the way. We have the expertise to address the learning loss and psychological fallout of children who have spent months disconnected from school; to devise new systems to fight widespread food insecurity; to help teachers not merely survive but thrive; and to help people of different cultures, races and political views bridge their differences and find common ground.

But most of all, we understand the power and hope of education itself as a force that galvanizes and unites. Education is an expression of human determination to create a better way of life. By attaining excellence in our fields, we begin to realize our goals. Through leadership, we inspire others to follow in our footsteps. And ultimately, we create joy by fashioning a healthier, smarter and more equitable world.

Our Convocation this year celebrates the contributions our talented and dedicated graduates have already made in their journey along this pathway. At this watershed moment, they will help reimagine the future and refashion a world greatly in need of change. As in the past, their medium will continue to be education writ large—the study of how people learn and apply knowledge and skill in all fields. And that, ultimately, is why we proudly continue to call ourselves . . . Teachers College.

MEDALISTS

DISTINGUISHED SERVICE AWARD

MASTERS I CEREMONY • ROSEMARIE TRUGLIO, PH.D.
Senior Vice President, Curriculum and Content, Sesame Workshop

Rosemarie T. Truglio is the Senior Vice President of Curriculum and Content at Sesame Workshop. Dr. Truglio is responsible for the development of the interdisciplinary curriculum on which Sesame Street is based and oversees content development across platforms (e.g., television, publishing, toys, home video, and theme park activities). She also oversees the curriculum development for all new show production, including Esme & Roy, airing on HBO.

Dr. Truglio received a Ph.D. in Developmental and Child Psychology from the University of Kansas, and a B.A. in Psychology from Douglass College, Rutgers University.

MASTERS II CEREMONY • TORIAN EASTERLING, M.D., M.P.H.
First Deputy Commissioner and Chief Equity Officer, New York City Department of Health and Mental Hygiene

Dr. Easterling serves as the First Deputy Commissioner and Chief Equity Officer at the NYC Department of Health and Mental Hygiene.

Prior to serving as First Deputy Commissioner and Chief Equity Officer, Dr. Easterling served as Deputy Commissioner of the Center for Health Equity & Community Wellness at the NYC DOHMH, where he oversaw programmatic work focused on reducing overall premature mortality and closing the racial gap on the leading causes of preventable death. He also served as the Assistant Commissioner of the Department of Health's Bureau of Brooklyn Neighborhood Health, where he helped advance key programming to address pressing concerns, including maternal deaths and gun violence. Dr. Easterling is a community physician committed to health equity, social justice and movement-building to achieve the health outcomes that all people deserve both locally and globally.

Dr. Easterling holds a Bachelor of Science degree from Morehouse College, a Doctor of Medicine from Rutgers-New Jersey Medical School, and a Master of Public Health from Icahn School of Medicine at Sinai. He completed his residency in Family Medicine at Jamaica Hospital Medical Center and a General Preventive Medicine residency at Icahn School of Medicine at Sinai.

DOCTORAL CEREMONY • KATHRYN GARCIA
Director of State Operations & Infrastructure, New York State

Kathryn Garcia was appointed Director of State Operations in 2021. Previously, she served as the Commissioner of the New York City Department of Sanitation, leading its 9,700 uniformed and civilian employees. Over the course of more than six years at the helm, Ms. Garcia led the department through nearly 15 feet of snow, expanded environmental programs from e-waste collection to the largest curbside organics program and implemented innovative technology solutions to manage both its personnel and fleet. In addition to her duties at the Department of Sanitation, she served as the City’s Lead Czar, developing a plan to eliminate childhood elevated blood lead levels, and during the winter of 2019, she also stepped in as the interim Chair of the New York City Housing Authority to begin implementation of an agreement with the federal government.

During the pandemic, Commissioner Garcia served as the COVID-19 Food Czar, delivering over 1 million meals a day to hungry New Yorkers. A lifelong New Yorker, Commissioner Garcia launched her career as an intern at the Department of Sanitation. Before returning to the Department as Commissioner, she served as Chief Operating Officer at the New York City Department of Environmental Protection, where she was responsible for the operation of the City's water supply, water and sewer system, and wastewater treatment plants. Prior to her service at DEP, Garcia was Vice President at Appleseed. Commissioner Garcia earned her B.A. at the University of Wisconsin-Madison.

Thank you to all who support scholarships and fellowships at TC.
GREETINGS FROM THE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION PRESIDENT

As President of the Teachers College Alumni Association, it is my pleasure to welcome you into our ranks. You are joining a network of some 90,000 professionals—from a range of academic, personal and professional backgrounds—who have made and continue to make significant contributions to their communities around the world. Our Alumni have accomplished so much because of their TC experience, leadership skills, tenacity and wisdom. They have done so with the support of people like the ones around you today—family, friends, faculty, mentors and fellow alumni.

I hope you will also keep hold of the experiences, which may have been similar to mine: the moments of insight, intense study, laughter and wonderment. Many of you have developed personal and professional friendships that will stand you in good stead for years to come, and I can assure you that your continued connection with TC will result in professional benefits throughout your life.

It is an exciting time to join the alumni network as many alumni programs and opportunities have moved online, so there are even more opportunities to connect. I invite you, the newest members of the Alumni Association, to stay engaged with the College.

The virtual opportunities to engage include social, networking, and career development events. Visit tc.edu/alumni/events to view all the events for the TC community at-large and for alumni, specifically.

Email and social media are the two most effective ways to learn about upcoming professional and educational opportunities. Keep your contact information current at tc.edu/alumni/update to receive news and invitations from the College, and connect with us on Facebook, Twitter, Instagram and LinkedIn. I encourage you to show your TC pride, by adding Teachers College, Columbia University to your professional credentials, resumes and profiles.

We trust you will continue to be involved as an alumnus/a, whether locally or remotely, and perhaps will consider serving on one of the Alumni Association Committees.

Please visit tc.edu/alumni/volunteer to learn about a variety of ways to volunteer.

For many of you, your focus right now is, and should be, on your career development. We know you have been well prepared for your careers, but please know that you will always have a home and supportive community at TC, with resources to help you throughout your career provided in partnership with TC NEXT, the College’s reimagined career services office.

To learn more about the other offerings available to you as an alum, visit tc.edu/alumni/benefits.

On behalf of the entire Teachers College Alumni Association, I congratulate you on your graduation. We look forward to celebrating your achievements, being a part of your future endeavors and sharing news of your successes. We hope to meet you at one of the many TC alumni events in the future.

Sincerely,

Carmine P. Gibaldi, Ed.D. ’89
