Teachers College

COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY

Throughout its long history, Teachers College has taken as its mandate a service to the greater good. Toward this end, TC students across a range of fields in education, health, and psychology are prepared to serve as change agents, ensuring people thrive — in our own neighborhood in New York City and across the globe. Our psychologists, conflict resolution specialists, organizational psychologists, speech-language pathologists, nutritionists, health educators, artists and art educators, policy analysts, higher education specialists, teachers — and so many more — have an unwavering commitment to the power of their disciplines to effect true, positive change. Indeed, TC practitioners recognize the power of working across disciplines.

Our collective focus on impact and the public good is what galvanizes and unites our community. Education is an expression of human determination to create a better way of life. Through leadership, we inspire others to follow in our footsteps. And ultimately, we create joy by fashioning a healthier, smarter and more equitable world.

Our Convocation this year celebrates the contributions that our talented and dedicated graduates have already made in their journey along this pathway. We stand ready to support them as they continue to reimagine the future and refashion a world greatly in need of change.

As in the past, their medium will continue to be education writ large — the study of how people learn and apply knowledge and skill in all fields. And that, ultimately, is why we proudly continue to call ourselves . . . Teachers College.

Mission Statement

To empower committed learners and leaders to build a smarter, healthier, more just and equitable world through multidisciplinary knowledge creation, policy engagement, and practice innovations across education, psychology, and health.

Medalists | Distinguished Service Award

Ceremony I

Erica Belsky, Ph.D.

TC Ph.D. '12, Co-Founder & COO, Good Inside

Erica Belsky is a clinical psychologist, mom of three, and co-founder of Good Inside, a next-generation parenting company and movement. Erica received her B.A. in Psychology from Cornell University and a Ph.D. in Clinical Psychology from Teachers College, Columbia University. Upon receiving her Ph.D., Erica spent several years working with people suffering from substance use disorder and related underlying mental health issues at The Addiction Institute at Mount Sinai and the Freedom Institute.

In 2020, Erica and fellow psychologist Dr. Becky Kennedy joined forces to create Good Inside. As Chief Operating Officer, Erica has been instrumental in growing Good Inside from a thriving social media community into a multimedia powerhouse and pioneering startup. Under her leadership, the company has expanded its reach to millions of parents worldwide with a #1 New York Times bestselling book, a chart-topping podcast, and the launch of a cutting-edge digital subscription product.

Becky Kennedy, Ph.D.

TC Ph.D. '10, Founder, Good Inside

Dr. Becky Kennedy is a clinical psychologist, mom of three, and the visionary founder and CEO of Good Inside, an evidence-based parenting platform and next-generation movement. Through her #1 New York Times bestselling book, TED Talk, and chart-topping podcast, Dr. Becky has built a global community of millions of parents who turn to her for practical, sturdy, and compassionate advice.

Dr. Becky was initially trained in and practiced a popular behavior-first, reward-and-punishment model of parent coaching. However, she soon realized that these methods often felt awful — for both kids and parents. Determined to find a better way, she applied her expertise in attachment, mindfulness, emotion regulation, and internal family systems theory to develop a new, research-based approach to working with parents.

Dr. Becky holds a B.A. in Psychology and Human Development, Phi Beta Kappa and summa cum laude, from Duke University, and a Ph.D. in Clinical Psychology from Teachers College, Columbia University.

Ceremony II

He is a community and developmental psychologist who studies the effects of public policies and programs related to immigration, early childhood, youth development, and poverty reduction on human development across the lifespan. He conducts research in the United States and in Latin America, South Asia and the Middle East. His books include Cradle to Kindergarten: A New Plan to Combat Inequality (with Ajay Chaudry, Taryn Morrissey, and Christina Weiland, 2021, 2nd edition, Russell Sage) and Immigrants Raising Citizens: Undocumented Parents and Their Young Children (2011, Russell Sage). Grant Foundation; the National Board for Educational Sciences of the U.S. Department of Education; the Global Education Evidence Advisory Panel (GEEAP) of the U.K. Foreign Commonwealth and Development Office (FCDO), the World Bank, UNICEF and USAID; and the LEVANTE advisory board of the Jacobs Foundation. Where True Change Begins®

Greetings from the Alumni Association President

Congratulations, 2025 Graduates!

As President of the Teachers College Alumni Association, I am delighted to welcome you as our newest members. We celebrate your joining a network of over 100,000 professionals working in education, health, and psychology who are dedicated to creating a better world. Our alumni can be found working across the country and globe, channeling their TC experience, leadership skills and passion for true change into their careers.

I trust that your TC experiences were, like mine, transformative. The lightbulb moments, the intellectual conversations, the joy of making new friendships—may these continue throughout your life. I hope, wherever the road takes you, you will nurture your TC connections. The TC community is our most important resource, and your engagement with one another is, and will be, invaluable.

The TC alumni network offers so many opportunities to connect, and I invite you to stay actively engaged with the College through the Alumni Association. Email and social media are the two most effective ways to learn about upcoming professional and educational opportunities, as well as visiting tc.edu/alumni/events. Please keep your contact information current at tc.edu/alumni/update to receive news and invitations from the College, and connect with us on Facebook, X, Instagram, and LinkedIn, especially in our Student and Alumni Networking LinkedIn Group: tc.edu/studentalumninetwork. I encourage you to display your TC pride by adding Teachers College, Columbia University to your professional credentials, resumes, and profiles.

There are a number of ways to get more deeply involved, both locally and remotely. You might consider serving on one of our Alumni Association Committees. Please visit our virtual alumni lounge and learn about the many ways to get involved at tc.edu/alumni/volunteer, including how to bring TC to your community.

Of course, we all know that career development is top of mind for recent graduates. TC has well prepared you for your next move, and TC NEXT, the College's career services office, is here to help you navigate future transitions and professional development. To learn more about programs and services available to you as an alum, visit tc.edu/alumni/benefits.

On behalf of the entire Teachers College Alumni Association, congratulations, TC alum! We welcome you to our community, and we look forward to seeing what the future has in store for you. We will gladly greet you at one of our many TC alumni engagement opportunities!

Sincerely,

Brian Kennerly, M.A. '92

Academic Attire

Graduates of Columbia University wear distinctive light blue academic attire. In keeping with University tradition, Master's graduates do not wear hoods. Doctoral graduates who have earned a Doctor of Education wear light blue hoods, and those who have earned a Doctor of Philosophy wear dark blue hoods.

TC provides honor cords to three groups of graduates:

- Red, white, and blue: Active or retired members of the United States Military
- Blue and gold: Breaking New Ground Graduates
- Navy, light blue, and white: Members of the TC Student Senate and other student leaders

In addition, specially decorated white stoles are worn by TC parent graduates as symbols of the dual journey of our parent graduates and their children.
